

KAUR executes major changes in 1981-82

Working with a $13,000 budget KAUR, Augustana College radio station, has managed to expand to 24-hour coverage, build a new studio and accrue a staff of over 100 people.

The new studio was built on a minimal budget, Bonde said. With all the work, between 250 and 300 hours, being donated by Doug Behrens and himself.

Through grants from area businesses KAUR also broadcasts all home and away football games and men's and women's basketball games.

Brian Bonde, general manager said, KAUR is the "biggest and best it has ever been." The listening audience, according to Bonde, is bigger now than ever. "In different surveys taken around Sioux Falls, KAUR has managed to record anywhere between nine and fourteen percent of the total listening audience," he said.

"We are promoting the station now more than ever before," Bonde said. "I hope that the college will realize what they have with the station and commit themselves to developing the station. Not, necessarily changing what KAUR is doing on the air, but to promote the college and provide better service to the community."
